

ABSTRACT

A conventional packet frame includes a MAC header, one MAC service data unit (MSDU) and a frame FCS. This frame is 5 repeated to send a plurality of MSDUs. A proposed packet frame includes a MAC header, a plurality of MSDUs and a frame FCS. A unique bit pattern is provided in the MAC header to distinguish the proposed packet frame from the conventional packet frame. Thus, the total data stream can be shortened.